NCOIL Holds Successful DC Fly-In to Educate Congress About the Importance of State-Based Insurance Regulation (cont'd)

They, together with NCOIL CEO, Commissioner Tom Considine, General Counsel Will Melofchik and staff, participated in dozens of meetings with Senators, House Members, and committee and congressional staff, including significant numbers of both the House Financial Services Committee and Senate Banking Committee, to highlight the importance of preserving the state-based system of insurance regulation, along with other NCOIL policy priorities.

“Being able to discuss the importance of state-based insurance regulation with our federal counterparts provided an excellent opportunity to discuss how we can continue to create the best marketplace possible for consumers and industry alike,” said IN Rep. Matt Lehman, NCOIL Immediate Past President. “NCOIL’s efforts to have a continued dialogue with Members of Congress and their staffs have proven to be very useful in advancing our shared policy goals.”

The day began with U.S. Senator Mike Rounds (R-SD) speaking to NCOIL legislators about preserving the state-based system of insurance regulation. Sen. Rounds, former Governor of South Dakota and state senator, worked extensively in the insurance industry prior to his public service giving him vast knowledge of the industry from various perspectives. NCOIL legislators also heard from Indiana Congresswoman Victoria Spartz, who spoke about several issues including her work in Congress to help provide aid to Ukraine. A former Indiana state senator and Ukrainian native, Congresswoman Spartz has made numerous recent trips to the war torn country.

Throughout their meetings, NCOIL legislators discussed: the preservation of the McCarran Ferguson Act; the need for a long-term reauthorization and modernization of the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP); amending the Airline Deregulation Act (ADA) to allow states the authority to regulate certain business practices of air ambulances; amending the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) to add a statutory waiver provision so that States could seek ways to apply their particular reforms to all health insurance plans whose members all reside in that State – including self-insured plans of a certain number of members; preparations for the end of the federally declared Public Health Emergency; S&P’s proposal to revise its methodology for assessing insurers’ financial strength: “Insurer Risk-Based Capital Adequacy – Methodology and Assumptions”; and the negative effects of a federal monitoring and reporting system for the State workers’ compensation marketplace.

“As Chair of the Texas House Insurance Committee, I know just how intricate a particular state’s insurance market can be.” said TX Rep. Tom Oliverson, MD, NCOIL Treasurer. “Now more than ever, Members of Congress and their staffs need to know the importance of the state-based system of insurance regulation and how it promotes the best market for our mutual constituencies.”

“State legislators have worked to affirm the state-based system of insurance legislation and regulation that promotes growth and solvency in the market while protecting consumers. This regulatory approach has worked for over 70 years since the passage of the McCarran-Ferguson Act,” stated Commissioner Tom Considine, NCOIL CEO. “With so many unique issues currently facing the insurance sector, it was great to have some of the top state insurance legislators in the country representing NCOIL’s positions on The Hill during what was NCOIL’s seventh consecutive annual D.C. Educational Fly-in.”

Capital

By Will Melofchik – NCOIL General Counsel

Greetings -

Welcome to the latest installment of Capital Corner, a column that aims to update you on some of the issues that NCOIL is following. Below are some of the issues that NCOIL will be discussing at the upcoming NCOIL Summer Meeting and will be monitoring and further discussing throughout 2022.

The upcoming 2022 NCOIL Summer National Meeting in Jersey City, NJ will feature three important and timely general sessions. Attendance at general sessions always seems to drop compared to committee meetings, yet the conference program evaluations consistently rate the general sessions even higher than the committee meetings. Below are brief summaries of the general sessions on the agenda for the Summer Meeting. I urge you all to review the summaries and plan to attend the sessions.

Private Equity's Influence and Impact on the Insurance Industry

While the practice of private equity firms acquiring U.S. insurers dates back several years, much more attention to the practice has been placed recently by both State and federal policymakers. This past March, U.S. Senator Sherrod Brown (OH, Chair of the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee) sent a letter to National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) President and Idaho Insurance Director Dean Cameron, and Federal Insurance Office (FIO) Director Steven Seitz, expressing concerns such as “insurance investment products workers depend on for their retirement...being transferred to...risky companies that have a track record of undermining pension and retirement programs.”<sup>1</sup> In its response to Chair Brown, the NAIC stressed that “State insurance regulators are fully capable of assessing and managing the risks” of the insurers utilizing “large and complex investment strategies”, and there is “nothing PE firms add to the playing field that changes this fact”<sup>2</sup>

Prior to Chair Brown’s letter, the NAIC Macroprudential (E) Working Group (MWG) was charged with developing a strategic risk assessment tool and coordinating NAIC activities concerning private equity-insurer arrangements<sup>3</sup>. The charge resulted in drafting an initial list of wide-ranging considerations pertaining to private equity firm involvement in insurance and the ability of state insurance regulators to adequately monitor and assess the risks of such involvement (“PE Considerations List”)<sup>4</sup>. The current version of the PE Considerations List along with recently submitted comments can be viewed here: https://content.naic.org/sites/default/files/call\_materials/Materials\_13.pdf

Given the flurry of activity surrounding this issue, it is important that state legislators be added to the group of those involved thus far in order to ensure that any additional regulatory scrutiny extended towards private-equity owned insurers is proper and rooted in statutory authority. To that end, at the upcoming Summer Meeting in Jersey City, the NCOIL Innovation Series is titled “Private Equity’s Influence and Impact on the Insurance Industry.” Attendees will hear from:

Biomarker testing is the analysis of blood, other body fluids, and/or tissue for the presence of biomarkers, which can be defined as objectively measurable characteristics that help measure one's biological state, including the presence and progress of disease<sup>5</sup>. This innovative method of testing has been applied in the diagnosis and monitoring of numerous conditions, including cancer, cardiovascular disease, infections, and genetic disorders<sup>6</sup>. Biomarker testing is part of a practice termed “precision medicine” which is an approach to medical care in which disease prevention, diagnosis, and treatment are tailored to the genes, proteins, and other substances in the body<sup>7</sup>.

States such as Arizona, Illinois, and New York have either passed or introduced bills that require health insurers to provide coverage for biomarker testing for diagnosis, treatment, and monitoring of disease. Asw. Pam Hunter (NY), Chair of the NCOIL Health Insurance & Long Term Care Issues Committee, and sponsor of the aforementioned New York bill, has announced her intent to use her NY bill as the starting point for development of a similar NCOIL Model Act.

Any time a requirement for health insurance coverage is discussed, particularly for innovative and intricate testing methods such as biomarker testing, there are of course certain issues to consider such as the cost of testing and ensuring that the tests are performed pursuant to appropriate guidelines. At the upcoming Summer Meeting in Jersey City, a general session will be held titled “Biomarker Testing and Precision Medicine: Connecting Patients with The Right Treatment at the Right Time.” Attendees will hear from a panel consisting of:

- Tiffany Westrich-Robertson, CEO & Co-Founder - International Foundation for Autoimmune & Autoinflammatory Arthritis
- Hilary Gee Goeckner, MSW, Senior State & Local Campaigns Manager – Access to Care American Cancer Society Action Network, Inc.
- Alyssa Schatz, Senior Director, Policy & Advocacy - National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN); and
- Miranda Motter, Senior VP, State Affairs and Policy - America's Health Insurance Plans (AHIP)

Please submit any thoughts or comments on this issue to wmelofchik@ncoil.org.

“Social Inflation”: Fact or Fiction?

“Social inflation” is a term some use to refer to rising litigation costs and their impact on insurers' claim payouts, loss ratios and, ultimately, how much policyholders pay for coverage<sup>8</sup>. Put another way, it can refer to all ways in which insurers' claims costs rise over and above general economic inflation.<sup>9</sup> However, others argue that “social inflation” is merely an industry-created term, produced to justify raising rates<sup>10</sup>.

Capital Corner (cont'd)

As those two introductory sentences indicate, there are very strong opinions on both sides of the “social inflation” debate. And any policy decisions made related to this debate can have an impact on policyholder’s premiums, a factor which is made even more important during these current inflationary times. Accordingly, at the upcoming Summer Meeting in Jersey City, a general session titled “Social Inflation: Fact or Fiction” will be held and the panel will educate attendees on “social inflation” and what, if anything, should be done about it. Speakers are:

- Victor Schwartz, Esq., Partner, Public Policy Group - Shook, Hardy & Bacon, L.L.P
- Kenneth M. Trombly, Esq. - Trombly & Stinger, PLLC
- Jim Whittle, VP, Liability & Counsel - American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA); and
- Peter Kochenburger, Executive Director, Insurance Law LL.M. Program, Deputy Director, Insurance Law Center, Associate Clinical Professor of Law - University of Connecticut School of Law
